

BFF and the New Boy in School

By Klaudia Rivera

Forever Friend <3Girl, did you see the new guy in school
It's his second day and he's already popular and cool
If he were to just look my way
I feel my heart would grow wings and flutter away.

Bestie what are you even talking about!?
His eyes were on you like a predator stalks prey
He's making all the signs clear, without a doubt.
When you didn't partner up with him yesterday
I swear I almost saw his heart crack like broken clay

Queen, stop making my blush bloom
He never even acknowledges it when I enter a room
In fact, I said "hi" the first day, and did not receive one back
It was as if I gave him the opening key, and he didn't give a jack
Sis, you've got it all wrong, he gave a little wave of his hand
Also a little off topic but I heard he's in a band
When you two end up together, which is obvi you will See if he has any cute bandmates, preferably gentlemen who will pay the dinner bill
