

You Don't Own Me

By Syndey Kleppinger

You can't take my privacy
You can't hold me down
My Heart's not icy
My attention ain't with the crowd
I'm all of me, and you know that I'm proud

You can't snuff my flame
You can't hide my dreams
My soul won't hold shame
Although sometimes it seems
So many want to mock me, so many want to tease

You can't try and control
Not my thoughts or my schemes
You can't ever break my soul
Not my mind not my dreams
Trust is what I want trust is what I need

I've drawn it all out in my mind
ALready got all my plans for this life
I'm not defined by other people
I won't be someone else's pawn
Learned to watch my back won't get stabbed with a knife
