A Love Lost

To lose that which I love so well
No turning back time when our love is done
For what has happened can not be dwelled
You gave me not a second look just run

Your hypocritical actions spoke harder truths
A promise to stay turned break away
You walked away when we had a dispute
All my love would never make you okay

Now I look back a time gone makes me laugh
I've learned to live with the mistakes made
Although I wish that it could stay the same
A pain still there that keeps me so afraid

We are each other's past forever more
We love deep down no one can lie we adore
