

Away, Yet Close

Some say that night is beautiful like the sea,
But if you stay inside bars, what will you see?
I think you have learned and it's time for you to go free,
When you go free I can unblind your heart and play hide and seek,
Maybe I am too old to play hide and seek,
But you have been hiding for too long, now it's time to be seen,
All this time I have been waiting days, weeks, months, years but today is the day, it is finally here,
So put on your shoes, lets run and turn of those ginormous fears.
