

Horseback riding

The one time you get to feel free

The feeling of no one judging you

The feeling of no one watching you

The feeling of the gentle reins in your hands

The feeling of the pleasant breeze flowing through the air

Horseback riding

The soft touch of patting their fluffy fur

The array of different horse heights and sizes

The struggles you go through to see your progress

The time that you are as independent like a lone wolf

Horseback riding

As you rush past the backgrounds of the forest you feel careless.

You feel the harsh blowing wind brush you against your face as you gallop down the side

The power of feeling the world around you is nonexistent.
