

The Greatest Gift

Written By: Nick S.

The sun was bright
It brought light to my room
I felt happier than ever
As i was turning thirteen

Mom made breakfast
The best breakfast you can imagine
It made my tastebuds blast
Like a big block of TNT

Mom did not forget
For it was my day
Where i become a teen
Where i get a gift

Mom said she will be back
Little did i know
She will come back with something
Something that will change my life

I heard my mom's car
Then the door open
I rushed downstairs
To see my mom smiling at me

She had a surprise
Then told me to close my eyes
Then heard something
The cry of a kitten

I then opened my eyes
To get blinded
Blinded by cuteness
The cute little white face

I bursted in tears
Tears of joy
I then said
This is the greatest gift of my life
